VOLUME XXII

COLUMBIA, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1919.

NUMBER 16

FOUR SCORE YEAR AND TEN.

Such was the Long Life of Mr. Elzy Damron, Who Died at 10 a. m., Monday at the Home of J. R. Young.

To the older citizens of Adair county the subject of this writing was well-known. He was reared on Green river, and until a few years ago he followed trading and farming. His residence was a home for every person who called, and he was never known to charge a man for lodging and edibles, but gave every caller the glad hand and was sorry to part from any persons who visited his hospital residence.

Until recent years he was full of life and delighted in telling jokes, and when a crowd was around him it was kept in an uproar for hours, and to this day you can often hear younger men relating an Elzy Damron story.

The Lord was good to him. He had been an unusually strong man, seldom the slightest complaint coming from him. The 25th of last October he was eighty-nine years old. He lost his wife many years ago, but he reared three daughters and one son.—Mrs. J. H. Young, this place, Mrs. L. T. Neat, Russell Springs, and Mrs. Annie Downtain, Oklahoma, Mr. Azure Damron, who is in the West. He loved his children and his children were exceedingly kind to him.

The end came at 10 o'clock Monday morning, his children and grandchildren being at his bedside.

The funeral services were conducted at the Christian Church, of which the deceased was a member, by Eld. Z. T. Williams this, Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock.

The interment was in the city cemetery, many friends were present.

Valuable Property for Sale.

My residence property on Greensburg street, half mile from court-house in Columbia, Ky., and known as the Locust Grove Stock Farm. This is one of the most desirable homes in the county has a splendid dwelling house, possibly the best stock barn and corn crib in the county. Otherwise well improved. Payments can be arranged to suit the buyer. Call on or address me at Columbia.

16-3t B. F. Chewning.

New Bakery.

I have opened a bakery in West corner of the public square where Nell & Son formerly sold groceries. I have an experienced baker and will constantly keep on hand the best of bread and all kinds of pastry. I also furnish meals at all hours. A hungry man can soon become satisfied at my place. I will buy and pay cash for butter and eggs.

Valuable Farms Changes Hands.

Randall Rice bought a few days ago, of J. O. Beard, the farm, known as the John B. Russell farm and located at Plum Point. We learn that the consideration was $16,000.

Albert Bault purchased the Randall Rice farm, on Green river, which adjoins the Hunter Fisher farm. It is fine property. The price has not been given.

S. M. Burdette returned from Marion and Washington counties last Saturday, with a bunch of very fine work mules purchased for his sale barn here in Columbia. These mules cost him from $140 to $230 per head. There are some classy teams in the bunch. Mr. Burdette sold last week 20 head of work mules.

The Fifth Celebrates The Victory.

The Fifth Liberty Loan, which will be floated this spring, in April, will be called the Victory Loan. This will be the last of the great series of loans growing out of the World War. The amount has not yet been announced. Neither has the interest rate nor the exact date. While the Government will probably require still more money, even after the Fifth, it is announced that this will be the last to be raised by popular subscription.

Before and Since the War.

But few people know it, but nevertheless it is a fact, Adair county is in better financial position now than it was before the war. For instance, before this country entered into the foreign war there were something close to $400,000 on deposit in the four banks of Adair county, and while the war was in progress the county bought more than $400,000 worth of Liberty Bonds, Thrift Stamps and Red Cross subscriptions, and to-day there are in the four banks something close to $800,000 on deposit, and the size of the amounts in vaults are growing, the employees of the banking institutions busy from the opening until the closing.

This increase in cash capital has come from the sale of mules, cattle, hogs, poultry, eggs, butter, tobacco and all other farm products. As will be readily seen the farmers have realized good prices for everything grown upon the farm, and at this time the producers are making preparations for large crops the coming season.

In talking to a gentleman, the other day, who watches closely the outgoings and the amounts coming in, he said: "There are but few better counties in the State than Adair. She keeps her head above the level, and at all times ready to meet all just demands with the cash. In the meantime farm lands are advancing and new comers are here weekly seeking to buy homes. According to quality, land is cheaper in Adair to-day than any other county in the State."

Mrs. Allen Walker Entertains at Dinner.

The Walker home on Greensburg street, last Tuesday evening was the scene of a most delightful course dinner given to friends by Mrs. Allen Walker. This charming hostess had served in exquisite taste a menu of the seasons delicacies. The home was resplendent with decoration in green, which color scheme added to the beauty of the table and service. Music and other entertainment were enjoyed after the dinner. Those present as guests were Misses Nina Rickman, Mollie Caldwell, Ella Giltner, Sue F. King, Mesdames W. J. Flowers, Zora Rowe, Joe Rosenfield, Barksdale Hamlett.

A Good Citizens Passes Away.

James Montgomery Perryman, of Pellyton, this county, died Jan. 17, 1919. He was 78 years and 7 months of age. He was the son of George Washington and Emily Perryman. He was born and reared in Russell county near Montpelier. He was the eldest of a family of ten children, 5 boys and 5 girls, 7 of them have preceded him to the land beyond. Three sisters remain and all three live in Texas. G. W. Perryman, who became a noted Baptist preacher, and who died in Winchester a few years ago, was his youngest brother. The subject of this sketch taught in the public schools of Russell and adjoining counties for a number of years, and taught one year in Kansas. He served as a private in the civil war in the 13th Ky. Cavalry. He was married to Miss Mary Bell Pelley, Feb. 17, 1876. He located at Pellyton, this county, and remained there to the end. Three children were born to this union, two sons and one daughter. Luther, the eldest, represented the county in the Legislature some years ago. Marvin, the second son, is now in Emory University finishing up his Theological course and is preaching for a church near by. Elizabeth, married Mr. John Henson, of Dunnville, Ky. Montgomery Perryman was a member of the Masonic fraternity since 1861. He was a member of the Methodist church for a number of years, was a devoted Christian, an exemplary citizen and held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was in feeble health for a number of years and for the last 6 months has been confined to his home most of the time. He was a great reader, and a man well informed on the general topics of the day. He made the race for County Superintendent some years ago against Matthew Taylor and if he had not been running against the most popular man in the county would likely have been elected. As it was he was defeated only by 60 odd votes. His body was laid to rest by the Masonic fraternity at Tabernacle church on the 18th. Peace be to his memory.

Z. T. Williams, an old neighbor and friend.

Livestock Values Increased.

Livestock on farms in Kentucky January 1, 1919 was worth $177,396,000 compared to $158,587,000 January 1, 1918. This was due partly to increased numbers of all stock except horses, which decreased slightly during the year, and partly to greater value per head of all kinds of livestock in Kentucky compared to prices Jan. 1, 1918. The percentage of increase in value was greatest on milk cows and sheep.

Horses are very little more valuable than in January 1918, the average price being $104 this year compared to $101 last year. The average price of milk cows is $72 a head compared to $61 in January 1918; other cattle $42.50 compared to $39; hogs $16 a head compared to $14.50 last year; sheep $13.10 a head compared to $11.20 last year; and mules $127 compared to $122.

During 1918 hogs on farms in Kentucky increased in number from 1,637,000 to 1,768,000 and Jan. 1, 1919; sheep from 1,213,000 to 1,274,000; milk cows from 435,000 to 444,000; other cattle from 581,000 to 599,000; and mules from 224,000 to 231,000; while horses decreased from 443,000 to 439,000.

The Great New Era Conference.

At Louisville on the 13th and 14th of this month there will be a Tri-State, mammoth gathering of Presbyterians. Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana will meet together. Men of national reputations from New York, Philadelphia, Dallas and other points will address the meeting.

Rev. Watson will be sent as a representative from Adair Co. Movements of the New Era in which we now live will be noticed.

Report of this meeting will be given at Union Presbyterian church next Sunday. Come.

Death of a Little Child.

Creel, a little four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hill, who live near Columbia, died Monday of last week and the interment was on Tuesday. She was a victim of flu, and her passing brought great sorrow to the home. Several other members of the family, including her father, were sick with the same disease at the time the little daughter died. May God comfort the distressed parents, brothers and sisters, is the wish of sympathizing friends.

Notice to Stock Owners.

The last legislature passed a new law making it a penalty to stand stock without license and also changing the fees. So take notice, and be sure that you procure license for your stock before standing them. The new law requires you to make oath in the presence of the clerk, that you have not stood your stock before securing the license.

S. C. Neat Clerk.

Thanks Public.

Having decided to move my residence to Indiana in the near future, I take this way of extending cordial thanks and my appreciation for the patronage of my many friends and customers in Columbia and Adair county during the pleasant duration of my six years residence among you.

Faithfully yours,
Asa Loy.

Entertain at Dinner.

Miss Sallie Baker and Mrs. W. D. Jones were hostesses on last Thursday evening in the beautiful home of Judge H. C. Baker on Burkesville St., to a party of ladies at six o'clock dinner. The elegant menu was beautifully served in courses. The dainty place cards were hand painted white geese represented as holding a miniature card with the name of each guest. The fine old mansion was beautifully decorated with pink and white carnations, making a winter color scheme of rare delight. The guests present were Mesdames Allan Walker, Geo. Stults, Gordon Montgomery, Geo. Staples, Barksdale Hamlett, Minnie Johnson, W. A. Hines, Misses Minnie Triplett, Sue F. King and Ella Giltner.

Goes to Indiana.

Mr. Asa Loy and family will leave for Georgetown, Ind., the latter part of this week where they expect to reside, on a farm. They will leave with the best wishes of this community. Mr. Loy has not done any farm work for a number of years, but he knows how to till the soil, and he believes that he has an offer he can not afford to turn down. If perchance he and his wife should become sick for their old home, little Doris, their bright little daughter, the pride of Columbia, will cheer their spirits, and will be the one who will bring happiness and contentment. After Asa gets rich he can return with his family to Columbia and spend his dollars with the friends of his earlier days.

Sold and Bought More.

Last week I sold 24 head of the 32 mules advertised in the News. I have just placed in my sale barn 20 head more, a nice lot of work mules that I bought Friday in Washington county. These mules are 15 to 16 hands and 3 to 5 years old. This is your opportunity to select a good well matched team. Mules can be seen in my barn in Columbia every day.

S. M. Burdette.

Will Start a Poultry Farm.

Mr. J. P. Head, of King Mills, Ohio, who recently bought a farm near Sano, Adair county, arrived in Columbia last Tuesday night, accompanied by his wife and several sons and daughters. From here they went to their farm and will immediately perfect arrangements for raising poultry upon a large scale. It will evidently be a paying business. This enterprise will in all probability stimulate other farmers and farm wives to raise for the market more chickens, thereby gathering more eggs which is ready cash.

Returned Home.

Dr. S. Simmons, of Gradyville, who conveyed a Mr. Blades to Louisville, last week, for an operation, returned with his patients, last Tuesday. He reported that the surgeons gave Mr. Blade a thorough examination and announced that they could not benefit him by an operation, hence they returned home. Mr. Blades lives in the Keltner precinct.
